A vote for so-called cheap goods is a vote for low wages and idleness.

WORKMEN! Vote to-morrow in the interest of your wives and children—in the interest of your own country, instead of Europe.

MAJOR MCKINLEY told a great truth when he said: "Nothing is cheap at any price when imported from abroad, if it takes work away from the American workman."

The Democratic A. P. A. racket is not working as smoothly as the Morley letter forgery or the Burchard "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" fraud. It was sprung too soon, entirely too soon.

If that alleged A. P. A. circular printed by the Springfield Register was not gotten up in Springer's interest and in the hope of saving him from defeat, does anybody believe that the Register would have printed it?

Cast your vote to-morrow in the interest of the employment of American labor at good wages and against the proposition of Mr. Springer to stimulate the importation of foreign goods made by foreign labor which our people ought to make for themselves.

ADLAI STEVENSON came to Decatur, made his speech and left without explaining why he, as presiding officer of the Senate, ruled so as to deny the constitutional right of wage-earners to petition the Senate protesting against the passage of the Wilson bill because it was an attack on American labor.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND said the Democratic party could not look the American people in the face if it passed the senate tariff bill. The American people are very considerate, and rather than confuse the Democratic party by looking it in the face will, to-morrow, turn their backs upon it.

The following special published in yesterday's dailies is sacredly dedicated to William M. Springer, who is trying to raise a church issue to save himself.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—[Special.]—Archbishop Ireland, in an interview here to-day, talked freely of the A. P. A. He denounced the attempt to confound it with Republicanism. All good Catholics were advised to vote their real convictions, regardless of ecclesiastical scare-crows.

This is Major Connolly's farewell appearance. He has run against Mr. Springer time after time and has got into the ground at last.—Decatur Review.

Major Connolly ran only once before against Springer. That was in 1886 in Springer's old district with 4000 Democratic majority, and that time Springer pulled through with a bare 800 plurality. As Springer has only 2000 Democratic majority to depend on in the new district, it may be easily estimated which of the two is running into a hole in the present contest.

B. K. Durfee as a Wag.

B. K. Durfee is not generally regarded as a wag, but occasionally he gets off a pretty dry joke. For example, after the Democratic meeting Saturday night he remarked to some friends that "he had never heard more truth stated in the same length of time as he heard at that meeting." The twinkle in Brad's eyes as he told this indicated that he knows the truth when he hears it.

To show that he was joking it is only necessary to call attention to some of the things Adlai Stevenson said. For example he said:

"A Democratic congress by lowering the woolen schedule lessened your household expenses by 50 per cent of the outlay for woolen goods."

In the first place woolen goods have not been reduced 50 per cent and cannot be, under the present law as the reduction of the tariff on woolen goods cannot make them 15 per cent cheaper, unless wages are nearly cut in two. In the second place if it were true that woolen goods are 50 per cent cheaper they were not made cheaper by the new tariff as the woolen schedule does not go into effect until Jan. 1, 1895.

He said that Mr. Blaine, in his "Twenty Years in Congress," said that the Walker tariff of 1846 was yielding abundant revenue and the business of the country was flourishing; that large enterprises were undertaken and a spirit of prosperity was apparent. But Mr. Stevenson only told a half truth when he quoted from Mr. Blaine; as, continuing, Mr. Blaine distinctly assigns as a reason for that prosperity, not the Walker tariff of 1846, but the Crimean war, the Mexican war, the revolution of 1848, and the discovery of gold in California, all of which, combined, made a demand for American products; but that, as soon as these temporary causes were removed, the country never saw greater depression and more idleness.

Mr. Stevenson said, the last Democratic tariff law was the Morrill tariff, which is not true. The southern Democratic members of congress had generally gone into secession and had vacated their seats in congress, and the Morrill tariff was passed by the Republicans in congress in March, 1861, and was signed by James Buchanan, a Democratic president, who became disgusted with the Democratic free trade tariff, and who, in his annual message to congress, speaking of the condition of the country as the result of the Walker tariff, which Mr. Stevenson insists was so beneficial, said:

With unsurpassed plenty in all the productions and all the elements of natural wealth, our manufacturers have been suspended, our public works are retarded, our private enterprises are abandoned and thousands of useful laborers are thrown out of employment and reduced to want. We have possessed all the elements of material wealth in rich abundance, and yet, notwithstanding all these advantages, our country, in its monetary interests, is in a deplorable condition.

Mr. Stevenson said: "Need I tell you that the Democratic congress repealed the Sherman silver law?" The Fifty-second congress, which was Democratic, refused to repeal the Sherman silver law when appealed to to do it by Grover Cleveland, John Sherman and President Harrison; and the Fifty-third congress, which was Democratic, and which did repeal that law did not furnish a majority of Democrats in either branch of Congress in favor of repeal.

Mr. Stevenson said that the McKinley tariff law did not yield revenue sufficient to defray the expenses of government and that the Democratic tariff law is doing so, right in face of the report of the Secretary of the Treasury for October, which reached Decatur by mail that day, and which shows that during that month the government ran behind $12,579,573.38, a condition never known under the McKinley law.

These are only a few of the most palpable misstatements made by Mr. Stevenson in the course of his speech at the Opera House, and which every right-thinking man deplors on account of the prostitution of the office he holds being involved in his attempt to bolster up a sick party on the eve of an election by such methods. While B. K. Durfee jokes about it yet as a matter of fact it is no joking matter.

THE Normal Advocate of a recent date said: "Prof. E. L. Boyer received a telegram Monday evening telling of the death of his mother, Mrs. Isaac E. Boyer, at her home in Ida Grove, Iowa. Mrs. Boyer was for many years a resident of Central Illinois, her home being at Decatur. The husband was one of the pioneer ministers of Illinois, preaching all through this section away back in the '50's. He still survives at the place above mentioned. Mrs. Boyer was 61 years old at her death. Owing to a combination of circumstances, Prof. Boyer did not go to Iowa to the funeral, but the other children were there."

McDERMOTT GOT THE JOB.

An Old Soldier Turned Out to Make Way for a Democrat.

There has been another change in the Decatur postoffice and another Republican, Mr. Brown, an old veteran, will have to go. This morning Postmaster Donahue got notice from Washington that Henry McDermott, a resident of East Jefferson street, and until recently a hardware merchant on East Eldorado street, had been selected out of a bunch of sixteen applicants, to perform the duties of mail messenger between the Union depot and the post office. Mr. McDermott will enter upon his duties on Monday next, Nov. 12th. The amount of his salary cannot be ascertained.

Mr. McDermott will be required to furnish two rigs to see that all mail is promptly brought from the depot to the office and taken to the trains from the office.

KILLED BY A SCHOOLMATE.

Vivian Church was Shot by R. G. Schafer at Lincoln, Ill.

LINCOLN, ILL., Nov. 3.—Vivian Church was killed by a revolver shot to-day by a fellow-student. Church was 18 years old, a student at the college, and came from Fairmont, Illinois. He with some other students had been throwing water in the room of two of their fellows. One of them, R. G. Schafer, who lives in Petersburg, Ind., fired through the window to frighten them, expecting the shot to pass harmlessly into the air; but just then his young schoolmate rushed past. The shot passed through Church's body just above the heart, and the boy died in a few minutes. Schafer, who is 23 years old, and was preparing himself for the ministry, surrendered to the sheriff immediately after the shooting. To-night however he was released from custody by the verdict of the coroner's jury, which exonerated him any criminal intent. The remains of the deceased boy will be taken to Catlin for interment.

SO an Illinois Farmer Offers to Sell His Lands.

Jacob Lipe, a farmer living east of Hillsboro, who owns several fine farms and unknown amount of personal property, announces a public sale of his land and effects in a rather strange card, as follows:

"Believing, with all my heart, that God is calling me to the public ministry of his love, for which he has been preparing me for many years, I have, by his help, fully made up my mind to cut loose from everything that I find has a tendency to hinder me from obeying the divine command, 'Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature.' Therefore, I will offer at public sale," etc.

Mr. Lipe is of the Lutheran faith and is about 50 years of age.

A Strong Play and Company.

One of the scenic features in Garrick & Collier's melo-drama, "The Cross Roads of Life" which will be seen at the Opera House Thursday evening Nov. 8 is a section of the Harlem Tunnel on the Central Road. In this scene an attempt is made to wreck the Albany Express, and the way in which the accident is averted forms an exhibit of stage realism. "The Cross Roads of Life" is a melo-drama, with exciting climaxes and numerous scenic and mechanical effects. Edmund Collier will play the leading part. The story briefly told is that of a girl who is picked up at sea from a shipwreck by a fisherman, and educated. It is afterwards discovered that the girl's mother has died in England, leaving her a large fortune. Julian Ashwood, a convict, learns the fact, and forms a conspiracy to kidnap the girl. Complications following are worked out to a finale. Mr. Collier will have conspicuous in his support. Helen Collier, who will play the soubrette part.

Burial of John Cuttle.

The funeral of John Cuttle, killed last week at Springfield by falling off a Wabash train, took place Sunday from the Catholic church. The Springfield Journal of Saturday gave this statement about the case:

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Cuttle, came over from Decatur and were at their son's bedside at the time of his death. He came here from Decatur about three months ago and was employed by Vance & Deering in laying cement pavement. He was out of a job and was on his way home to Decatur. He said before his death that the brakeman on the train stepped on his fingers while he climbing off the train and subsequently kicked him under the chin. He is the son of respectable parents in Decatur and leaves besides his widow and one child two brothers, Joseph and Thomas, and two sisters, Mollie and Ida, all of Decatur.

MADE A DOUBLE SHOW.

Vice President Stevenson and a Glee Club at the Opera House.

Less Than Forty People Escort Adlai to the Grand—Much Curiosity, and Little Enthusiasm.

The last rally of the Democrats was held in Decatur Saturday night, the gathering being at the Grand which was crowded to see the Vice President of the United States, and to hear him speak in support of Democratic free-trade legislation and to laud the candidates on the ticket. It was a double show, and many Republicans were as anxious as the Democrats to have a look at the V. P. They didn't expect to hear a barn-yard glee club; that was an extra feature of the political exhibit, and they took that in, too.

Mr. Stevenson, accompanied by Alt-gold's appointees, Insurance Commissioner Durfee and Dr. McKenzie, superintendent of the Central Illinois Hospital for the Insane at Jacksonville, and Congressman Springer arrived in the city shortly after seven o'clock from Springfield, and the local committees with Goodman's band and a limited number of voters were at the depot to welcome the distinguished Bloomingtonian. There were two open carriages in waiting, and into the vehicles the speakers and the committee were placed. Then the vice-president's escort of 32 men and boys was formed, and the column moved off for the opera house. Everybody along the route had to laugh at the size of the escort—only 32 in line. The committee would have done far better had they brought the speakers up town in a street car, or come up on side streets with Judge Nelson and his coal-oil lantern in the van.

On reaching the hall there was a weak attempt made to give Mr. Stevenson a welcome befitting the exalted position he occupies in the national government. It was nothing like it should have been. Many a Democrat said that.

B. K. Durfee presided, and after music by the band and the crowing glee club from Shelbyville, which is a good one in its way, the chairman gave a short talk, introducing Mr. Stevenson in fitting terms. Mr. Stevenson repeated substantially the same speech he has delivered throughout the country, whistling through the Democratic graveyard by declaring that Illinois and New York were all right for Democracy, and by stating that the country is prosperous. The address in the main was a lot of assertions with many assurances that the Democrats, if continued in power, would go further in the line of free trade legislation. The speech made many Republican votes. It was a disappointment to the Democrats.

Congressman Springer delivered another of his demagogic speeches, and said that he stood by his record in congress. He begged the Democrats to stick by their ticket this time.

A song by the glee club closed the meeting.

Will Test the Case.

In Justice Sherb's court on Wednesday W. F. Neisler, the druggist, will have a hearing on a city charge of having resisted Rob Ferguson, city inspector of weights and measures in the performance of his duties prescribed by the city ordinance. It appears that Mr. Neisler objected to Ferguson touching the scales, asking that he be given time to consult his lawyer. There was some talk on the point and Mr. Ferguson swore out the warrant. It is stated that a state case will be instituted against another merchant. Ferguson says he is simply complying with the law in making an inspection of all scales and measures in use in the city. He has found many shortages and at a few places merchants were giving overweight and had been doing so for years. Under the ordinance the inspector is to make his rounds once a year. Ferguson states that the yearly fees will amount to about $300.

Archbishop Ireland's Views.

The Democrats in New York have been dragging Catholicism and A. P. A. into the New York campaign to get votes for the tottering Democratic candidates, and Archbishop Ireland, who is opposed to having his church made a tool of by any set of campaigners, came out in an extensive letter last Saturday which is the most sensible thing we have yet seen upon that subject. Following are a few extracts from his letter, which was in reply to Father Young's advice to Catholics to vote the Democratic ticket:

Averse as I am to speaking on a quasi-political matter, I cannot be silent at this juncture. The interests of the church, as I conceive them, are the chief motives of my speech. The scope of Father Young's interview, it is to be noted, reaches beyond one city, or one state, and covers the political situation in the whole country.

The introduction of the religious question into the political issues of the country I consider to be without foundation in reason, unjust to a large portion of our fellow-citizens, and disastrous to the Catholic Church. I deny that the Republican party has shown itself as sustaining the movement which has been set afoot by anti-Catholic bigots to abridge the civic and religious liberties of Catholics.

But whatever may be said of A. P. A. in itself, the Republican party has neither assumed or brought upon itself any responsibility for its existence or its workings. No one act of the party can be quoted to support a different view. In certain Republican conventions a request that a repudiation of A. P. A. be made a plank in the party was unnecessary. Nothing in its occurrence alarms Catholics. A great political party cannot be expected to take notice of every fleeting wind that passes over the field of American politics.

The introduction of the religious question into the political agitation of the country is disastrous to the Catholic Church. Were it supposable that some good result might follow the evil ones sure to come outweigh by far the good ones, and Catholics should not allow themselves to be ever put in this false and hurtful position. These Catholics who have raised the clamor of religious war are decidedly wrong; the politicians who raise or use this clamor for their own benefit injure and insult the church of which they make a foolstool to their own ambition. It is the duty of the Catholics to rebuke and silence this clamor. The church allied to one political party is narrowed in her influence, dragged down from her high pedestal of universal teacher and guide, and exposed to meet the hatred and opposition of other parties. She courts ruin to herself by identifying her power and interests with a portion of the population. She has suffered too much in the past from the supposed protection which the Democratic party pretended to exercise over her. Of late she has been enfranchising herself from that slavery and there must be no return to it. I would have the church wrapped up in no one political party, whichever it be. She cannot afford to be put in antagonism to another party. She herself as a church and her sons as citizens would suffer thereby most serious loss. Let this present clamor of A. P. A. be supposed to re-echo the minds of all Catholics and this will be the result.

I repeat, there is no religious question in American politics to day, and a mention of one should not be heeded nor tolerated.

Jenness Miller To-Night.

The Academy of music was crowded yesterday afternoon with the most fashionable portion of Philadelphia's female population, who gathered to hear Mrs. Jenness Miller talk on the subject of "Dress for Beauty and the Subject." And perhaps the audience profited no more from the talk than they did from the practical illustrations of Mrs. Miller's dress shown by her beautiful form, erect and graceful, set off by the handsome gowns she appeared in. And this is where Mrs. Miller shows the practice of the doctrine she sets forth, and her superb physique and carriage warrant her in claiming that physical culture is the fundamental principle of artistic dress. Public Ledger, Phila.

Mrs. Miller will lecture at the Grand opera house to night.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1894.

ADLAI STEVENSON misrepresented the facts when he stated in his speech at the opera house that the new tariff law was yielding sufficient revenue. On the very day he made this statement a special to the Globe-Democrat from New York states that the financiers are utterly disgusted with the imbecility of the Democratic party and that the leading men in financial circles there agree in saying:

The exhibit made by the Treasury department has been received with utter disgust. It shows the working of the new tariff law. It shows that the receipts for the month are lighter than in any month in the last thirty years, and that the revenues from this new law in its two months' operations are less than the receipts of any two months since the war. In the worst days of the panic the receipts did not fall so low nor the deficiency prove so great as last month. The total deficiency of the month was over $13,500,000, and for September the deficiency was nearly $8,000,000. If these figures are kept up it will be seen that the deficiency for the year under the Democratic tariff law will be over $125,000,000.

Paralyzed.

The many Decatur friends of Uncle Frankie Scott, of Mt. Zion, will regret to learn that he has received a third stroke of paralysis at his home, and is now unable to leave his bed. He is past 75 years of age, and is one of the oldest settlers of Macon county.

SCIENCE OF RUBBING.

Why a Course of Massage Usually Is of Great Benefit.

No method of treating the various aches and pains to which the flesh is heir is more agreeable to the sufferer, or oftener effective, than a course of intelligent rubbing or massage.

We may believe that the benefits derived are due to the personal electricity which is imparted from the body of the one who performs the rubbing, or we may say that a counter irritation of the superficial parts is set up by the friction. There are those who assert that it is the activity into which the parts in question are urged by the process that is of benefit. The last explanation is probably the most nearly correct.

But however we may explain the fact, it is certain that even unskilled manipulation may be productive of relief and comfort to a wonderful degree; while if the manipulator is acquainted with the anatomy of the human body, his touch may seem at times almost magical in dispersing pain.

By tracing out an inflamed nerve it is possible for masseurs—as professional rubbers are called—to reduce the most troublesome of neuralgias, even to the extent of relieving the ever-dreaded and long-lingering sciatica. Muscles which which refuse to contract, and joints which for a long time have been stiff, may be brought into renewed activity.

Of course it is not possible for every one to show the skill of a trained masseur; but any of us can do much in a humble way toward relieving the sufferings of those who are dear to us.

We should always be careful to assist the flow of the blood in its course through the painful parts, and this fluid bears with it both food and strength. Whether a muscle, which is very often the seat of the pain, is tired and sore from over-use, or cramped and stiff from non-use, the soothing action of a fresh supply of blood is equally acceptable.

Nerves require more delicate handling, as they are often exquisitely sensitive to the slightest touch; but patient persistence and care are certain to be productive of greater or less relief.

It is not necessary in every instance to exercise so much delicacy, however, as there are many conditions which are more rapidly benefited by the vigorous use of a crash towel till the superficial parts over the seat of the trouble are aglow.

Circular motions, pinching and slapping all enter into the methods of a successful masseur.

Finally, the success of the treatment of pain by rubbing is to be found, not so much in the brute force exhibited in the manipulations, as in the gentle, educated touch which is able to recognize at once the requirements of the individual case.—Youth's Companion.

PRESTLEY IN THE PULPIT.

Presbyterian Church Crowded to Hear a Former Pastor—Mr. Stevenson Present.

Sunday forenoon the First Presbyterian church was crowded to hear the sermon on the "Prodigal Son" delivered by Rev. W. H. Prestley, of Kankakee, who for many years was the popular pastor of the church. The membership and many citizens not connected with the church were present to welcome back to his old home, in the new church, the clergyman who still seems to be a part of Decatur's population. The sermon was one of his best and was delivered with force and power. Among the visitors were Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, the vice-president, and Dr. McKenzie, of Jacksonville, guests of Hon. C. A. Ewing and family, who occupied the Ewing pew. The vice-president came in quietly and took his seat. Many in the congregation pointed out Mr. Stevenson to friends.

THE NEW RECTOR.

The Rev. Frank N. Atkin officiated at St. John's Episcopal church on Sunday and was welcomed by a large congregation. The services were beautiful and impressive.

AT THE TABERNACLE.

A large audience greeted Rev. Geo. F. Hall at the Tabernacle Sunday morning. He discoursed upon "True Riches and How to Obtain Them," taking for his text the words of Paul in 11 Cor. 8. 9.—"For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich." Mr. Hall said in part:

"Christ was rich in all the wealth of heavenly glory; yet for our sakes he became poor. We ought not to talk about our sacrifices. We have made no sacrifices worthy of mention. The noble missionaries who have left home and all the blessed privileges of a Christian land to work among the heathen, have to endure a great many hardships; but they count it a privilege to do so, and do not consider it a sacrifice at all. So, let us give more of our time, more of our talent, more of our money, and more of everything we have toward the support of the gospel."

At the close of the sermon there were three accessions to the church, one by letter from Minneapolis, Minn., and two young ladies made the good confession and will be baptized at the close of the service next Sunday evening, at which time the new baptistry will be used for the first time. At night a great audience assembled to enjoy the stereopticon lecture, 23 of Dore's illustrations of Old Testament life were shown, and a number of miscellaneous views. The choir rendered some choice music. There were three more additions at the evening service, making six for the day. A grand total of 303 accessions have been gained by the First Christian church since Jan. 1, ten months ago. The enrollment is now about 1,000.

NOTES.

The Rev. Thomas Kier, of Boody, conducted the quarterly meeting services at the German Methodist church on Sunday.

At the missionary services held Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church Mrs. D. B. Wells, of Fort Wayne, Ind. gave the principal address.

Rev. John Jordan, of Louisville, Ky., occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church, and made a very favorable impression. He is a fine pulpit orator.

There was a large congregation at the Congregational church Sunday evening to hear the sermon on "The Heart the Standard of True Manhood," delivered by Rev. W. H. Prestley, of Kankakee.

Sudden Death at Blue Mound.

James Stapleton died suddenly at his residence, three miles southwest of Blue Mound, at 6 a. m. Sunday. He had got up and made a fire, and was giving some orders to his daughter about getting breakfast, and suddenly, as he sat in his chair, he moaned and dropped his head on his breast and expired almost instantly. He was 46 years old, and in good circumstances. His family consists of six children, three boys and three girls, the oldest 20, and the youngest four years of age. His wife died one year and eleven months ago in the same manner as did the deceased, while sitting in her chair, and at the same time in the morning. Deceased had been troubled some with heart disease, and was taking medicine for it. He was in Blue Mound Saturday, and seemed as well as usual. His funeral will take place from the residence to-morrow.

Like Straws Before the Wind

ARE ALL THE OBSTACLES THROWN BEFORE THE LARGE PRACTICE OF

The Great German & English Doctors.

No more deluding of the sick! No more experimenting! It is indeed a medical revolution, smashing old systems, terrifying old practitioners and welcomed by all the people.

"The great doctors" have revolutionized special practice here, and although others try to steal their names, they cannot succeed. The people of this city and vicinity are too intelligent to be deceived by ignorant pretenses who have failed to establish a name in even the most obscure country villages, and who as a last resort, branch out, as leading specialists and make a bid for practice by offering all kinds of inducements, even of refunding money, that for itself is evidence of fraud.
Don't be misled. Don't be humbugged. Your name is gone and away to-morrow. Your money is gone and you are in a worse condition.
Stick to the realities, the Great German and English Doctors. They publish no names of cured patients, but come regular, cure their patients and feel satisfied.

Recommendations from people living hundreds of miles away look very suspicious.

The Democrats are in favor of stimulating the importation of foreign goods, and the present tariff law was enacted for that purpose. This country cannot be prosperous and buy its manufactures from abroad.

MISS TILLIE KIMMERLY, of Macon, who for some time has developed indications of a failing mind, became violently insane within the past few days. She shows tendency to combativeness and destructiveness. Steps are being taken to commit her to an asylum.

NOVA SCOTIA coal can be loaded from the slopes at the mines right into vessels that can come directly to Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee and Duluth, for 12 1/2 cents a ton. Springer voted for free coal, and says he is in favor of free coal.

Every vote cast for Springer by a coal miner is a vote against his own interests.

ADLAI STEVENSON tried to illustrate that the tariff is a tax by setting up a straw man from America who bought a suit of clothes in England and was forced to pay a duty of $30 before he could land his clothes. That man, like the Democratic party, was trying to rob

American tailors and slipped up on it, and it follows that he did not try it the second time. In his case the McKinley law did just what it was intended to do:

it protected the American artisan against the importation of foreign goods at the expense of American labor. This is what Stevenson objects to. He wants to see the American laborer lose his job unless he will work as cheap as the European laborer.

MANECKE CHOKED WATKINS

The Democratic Nominee For State Senator Makes a Brutal Assault Upon a Decatur Citizen.

The Disgraceful Scene Witnessed in a Saloon—What an Eye-Witness Says About It.

State Senator Manecke, the Democratic nominee for re-election in the 1st district, lost his temper to-day at McGinty's saloon, and became the aggressor in a disgraceful scene in the presence of a number of witnesses.

Frank M. Watkins, a Democrat, but not a supporter of Manecke, was the victim. He has served in the city council as a Democratic alderman from the Sixth Ward, and he was the Democratic assessor in 1893. He is small of stature and is no match physically for Mr. Manecke. Mr. Watkins was in the saloon in company with Alex McGorray, and both gentlemen were talking together when Senator Manecke came in.

Mr. Watkins greeted Mr. Manecke with a remark that nettled the senator. He said:

"Hello, Manecke, are you sober?"

Immediately Manecke caught Watkins by the throat and jammed him up against the bar until Watkins got red in the face and his eyes bulged out. Mr. McGorray rushed to the rescue of Mr. Watkins and pulled Manecke away, at the same time saying:

"Here, Manecke, stop that. If you want to jump anybody take somebody of your size. I've said worse things about you many a time than Watkins has said."

"That's all right," Manecke replied. "You are a Republican and anything you may say is legitimate."

"Yes," responded McGorray, "and I'm a bigger man than Watkins, and that makes a big difference."

There was some more talk growing out of the Manecke assault on Watkins, and finally Manecke went away, hoping no doubt that the saloon episode would not get into print.

Later Mr. Watkins boldly declared that all along he had been opposed to Manecke but now he would go out and work against him. It is quite evident that Senator Manecke's choking methods of electioneering with Democrats of small stature known to be against him will not go down with Mr. Watkins who has many personal and political friends in Decatur and throughout the 1st district.

THE MAYOR AND TINCER

Have a Little Scrap on a Street
Corner—No Arrests.

Politics got pretty hot to-day at the corner of North Water and East Main streets, when Mayor Moffitt, Democrat, and Henry Tincer, Republican, got into a discussion on various phases of the local situation. Both gentlemen are biting talkers when they get started, and as they warmed up the lie was passed several times, finally resulting in the mayor making a pass at Tincer with his open hand, just grazing the nurseryman's right cheek. Tincer made a jump toward the mayor to retaliate when Colonel Mathias and Marshal Lehman stepped between the two men stopping hostilities. The incident attracted quite a crowd. It was more talk than fight. No arrests.
